Hi Ozzie, thanks for forwarding that email to me! A couple of the guys from the group expressed concern about a couple of things on your page: the first thing was the powerpoint, they feel it shows a little too much of our process, which I think is true, so it would be great if you could maybe remove the link for that. the other thing, which really is on the same topic, is my email correspondence with you, i know its silly, because you have constructed a really comprehensive page detailing the project and your experience of it, but we feel its important to maintain some mystery around the processes and ideas involved. I would be really grateful if you could remove the powerpoint and the correspondence. Also we aren't called the Asbo Twink Collective anymore, so could you remove that aswell? im really sorry to send you such a long list of requests! the reason i am is because we are graduating this year and we need to quite carefully maintain our presence on the internet, as this will be a major route for people to find out about our work, therefore we need to essentially limit or at least control what there is. Everyone thought the site was brilliant and all send their thanks, all the best Reuben

Hi Stu,

I don't have the list of where the photos were posted, so I'm also Forwarding your message back to Reuben LePrevost, who is my contact with the project. If you've looked at the PowerPoint presentation on the results of the experiment, you'll find the areas of London where the photos were posted.

Hi Ozzie,

Just thought I'd let you know... I found images 1762 and 2013 on the day of the experiment but didn't bother looking up the website until now! Just thought I'd say hi!
